MEMORANDUM FOR SEE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: Implementing General Fund Enterprise Business System (GFEBS)

~~Leaders~~,

1. We are regularly required to make decisions that impact and consume resources. We need integrated, enterprise-wide data for informed decisions – The General Fund Enterprise Business System (GFEBS), which replaces our legacy financial system, will address these needs.
2. GFEBS is a web-based system with real-time visibility of financial and accounting data across commands, garrisons and headquarters organizations. Very significantly, GFEBS integrates financial, real property and cost data with related output and performance data from organizations and functions across the Army.
3. Your leadership is critical to successful implementation. GFEBS will impact policies, procedures and business processes in your resource management offices and every organization in your command that prepares a budget or manages funds to accomplish their mission. Implementing GFEBS requires participation from more than just your resource management offices. The task is massive and complex, and will occur over the next few years.
4. I ask that you and your leaders embrace the initiative and allocate "can-do" individuals to serve as points of contact for training, change management and system deployment. Implementing GFEBS requires a partnership to identify training needs, provide training facilities and equipment, support data cleansing and conversion, and many other enabling actions.
5. The project schedule, site readiness activities and other planning information are at <http://gfebs.army.mil/>. Questions may be directed to LTG Edgar E. Stanton III, Assistant Secretary of the Army (ASA), Financial Management & Comptroller (FM&C) as the executive sponsor for GFEBS. Thanks for your support in deploying this system which will help us transform how we do business.

PETER W. CHIARELLI
General, U.S. Army
Vice Chief of Staff

Well-Informed Decisions Require Integration Of Related Data

- Situation:
  - Army leaders and managers need to make well-informed and timely decisions
  - Most decisions impact across many functions and organizations
  - Well-informed decisions require relevant, accurate and timely analyses that integrate data from many functional areas
- Requirement:
  - Move to modern systems that include open, horizontally integrated data to enable better informed decisions; including:
    - o GFEBS
    - o Logistics Modernization Program (LMP)
    - o Global Combat Support System-Army (GCSS-A)
    - o Integrated Personnel & Pay System (IPPS-A)

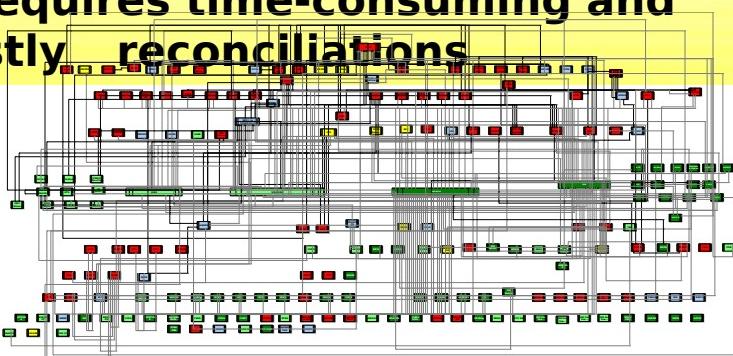

*"Effective stewardship requires an integrated management system ... that provides decision makers with timely and accurate information ... .
[so that] we can generate the most capable and ready Army at the best value for our country."*

Where We Are and ... Where We Are Going

General Fund
Enterprise Business System
(GFEBS)

Current Situation

- Involves maintaining many systems
- Requires many costly interfaces
- Requires entering data in several systems
- Inhibits efficient sharing of data
- Impedes producing comprehensive and accurate decision data
- Hinders responding timely to questions
- Requires time-consuming and costly reconciliations

System View (SV) 1

GFEBS Solution

- Implements a single web-based system
- Standardizes processes Army-wide
- Implements standard data structures
- Records transactions in real-time and provides real-time access to data
- Integrates financial and non-financial/ performance data from functional areas
- Applies commercial-off-the-shelf (COTS) Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP)
- Complies with DoD's Business Enterprise Architecture (BEA)

GFEBS Solution

Capitalizing on Technology

General Fund
Enterprise Business System
(GFEBS)

- Commercial Off-the-Shelf (COTS)
  - Configure and not custom-building software
  - Provides 'best practices' inherent in software

Economic Recovery Act—Work Breakdown (6 of 6)

The screenshot shows the SAP Project Builder interface with a red oval highlighting the path of the drilldown process. The path starts at the top level, 'IMCOM 2009 ARRA Projects', and moves through several levels of hierarchy until it reaches a detailed work item, 'PPS ID: 30052 Repairs to Taxiway #3'. The interface includes various tabs like 'Basic data', 'Dates', 'Assignments', etc., and a 'Responsibilities' section with details for a person named Slane, Ashley.
